Applicant argues that claim 30 has the same limitation as the limitation indicated to be allowable for another claim and hence claim 30 should be allowed. This is not persuasive since the limitation indicated to be allowable was in conjunction with the respective claim combinations together. Claim 30 has other limitations that are different than what has been indicated to be allowable.

As per independent claims 1 and 38, they have been amended and would require further consideration if entered and accordingly, the amendment is not entered.
